

Old Pueblo Archaeology Center's Indigenous Interests Zoom Series

Supported by a Grant from Arizona Humanities

7 to 8:30 p.m. Arizona Time on Six Tuesdays:

May 11, July 13, September 14, & November 9, 2021; and January 11 & March 8, 2022

The INDIGENOUS INTERESTS ONLINE PRESENTATIONS SERIES

is a collaboration between Old Pueblo Archaeology Center and Arizona Humanities.

It is designed to provide an avenue for communication between Native Americans and non-Indians that can result in more understanding of each other's cultures, traditions, histories, viewpoints, philosophies, and ways of life. The presenters, all members of Native Nations, will share their thoughts about the human experience; what it means to be human and Native American; how peoples of different cultures relate to one another; comparative religions, ethics, history, jurisprudence, language acquisition and retention, and philosophy; and how Native Americans view the archaeologists and anthropologists who study them.

These Zoom Webinar presentations will be hosted by Old Pueblo Archaeology Center's Board of Directors members Martina Dawley (Hualapai-Diné) and Maegan Lopez (Tohono O'odham).

Arizona Humanities has provided funding for the first six presentations in this series. Old Pueblo Archaeology Center is grateful for Arizona Humanities' generous support!

Indigenous Interests Program Dates, Presenters, and Topics:

- |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1) 5/11/21– Ruben Cu:k Ba'ak (Tohono O'odham),Curator of Education, Tohono O'odham Nation Cultural Center and Museum: Tohono O'odham Philosophy and Ethics                                                                              | 2) 7/13/21– Gabriella Cázares-Kelly (Tohono O'odham),Pima County Recorder: Indigenous Woman Coming Through: How I Went from Educator and Community Organizer to Elected Official                                   |
| 3) 9/14/21– Ana Antone (Tohono O'odham),Community Representative, Ce:dagi Wahia (Pozo Verde) Village, Sonora, Mexico: A Balance to Keep: Matriarch, Veteran, and Belonging to Traditional Tohono O'odham Lands South of the U.S. Border | 4) 11/9/21– Jefford Francisco (Tohono O'odham),Cultural Resource Specialist, Tohono O'odham Nation Cultural Affairs Department: Indigenous Views on Ancestors, Archaeology, and Interaction with Archaeologists    |
| 5) 1/11/22– Verlon José (Tohono O'odham),Religious practitioner, former Vice Chairman of the Tohono O'odham Nation: The Border Wall and the Tohono O'odham Nation's Traditions and Spiritual Freedom                                    | 6) 3/8/22– Martina Dawley (Hualapai/Diné),Senior Archaeologist, Hualapai Department of Cultural Resources: The Tribal archaeologist's Duties with a Focus on Ancestral Territories and Traditional Cultural Places |

Descriptions of each presentation will be posted on Old Pueblo Archaeology Center's Upcoming Events web pages at <https://www.oldpueblo.org/events/>.

Flyer date May 5, 2021